Adaptive Art Tools for Creative Expression

ART is an important part of childhood, from the first crayon scribbles to the tempera paintings of the sun and sky. Physical, cognitive, and emotional disabilities don't have to deprive a child of the joy of creative expression.

Zot Artz has developed adaptive tools that allow everyone to choose a color, make a mark, and create a work of art. Each artist can be successful at his or her own level of ability. The art activities foster social interaction, self esteem, and natural inclusion. Many of them also help develop fine motor skills, concentration, and other skills.
